"When we invest in clean energy ... and reduce population, more of our children can breathe clean air and drink clean water!" Harris bellowed from the podium, to roaring applause – watch below:

It is unclear if there was a teleprompter present during Harris' speech, and if said teleprompter actually told Harris to say what she said. A transcript later uploaded to the White House website reads as follows for what she said:

Kamala Harris isn't qualified to be a dog walker, let alone vice president

This is hardly the first time that Harris has said something stupid or bizarre while pretending to be America's vice president. Last summer, she put her foot in her mouth after stating that "we gotta take this stuff seriously, as seriously as you are, because you have been forced to have to take it seriously."

When asked at the height of the Wuhan coronavirus (Covid-19) "pandemic" a question about inflation and whether or not it was wrong for the Biden regime to claim that it would be "transitory," Harris responded with a word salad about gas, groceries, ports, and something about Build Back Better (6uild 6ack 6etter) – watch below.

Kamala's response to questions about inflation really highlights that constant complaint from her staffers that she "refuses to wade into briefing materials."

During another public appearance at "Essence" in New Orleans, Harris waxed non-poetically about culture and joy and, well, watch below and see if you can figure out what she was even trying to say:

VP HARRIS: "Culture is a reflection of our moment and our time, right? And present culture is the way we express how we're feeling about the moment and we should always find times to express how we feel about the moment that is a reflection of joy 'cause you know — it comes in... Show more

Then there was that time when Harris describes the conflict in Ukraine, using her own special words:
